

Value Added Services

Remote Backup

Financecube.net is a "all-on-the-web" technology. No installation and no database or information on your personal computer or local server. You have all the advantage a web-based technology can give you.

It might happened you would like to have a copy of your database on you local server or computer. One reason might be that you have an other back office system you would like to integrate with Financecube.net technology gives you this possibility of downloading databases in MS Excel format, easy to reuse.

You may download one client portfolio in a Excel sheet. Each client may also download its portfolio and details.

You may also download all your clients in one file.

Choose transaction from date.
Choose transaction to date.
Choose all or limited number of clients.
Start the process.

Financecube.net

