Press Release

February 2004

Financecube signs contract with PayNet own by MasterCard.

Financecube develops a new internet Web Service platform for Discretionary Asset Management and Independent Financial Advisors. The platform will be launched summer 2004.

As the first software and service provider in the European financial market Financecube will take advantage of Web Service technology as one of the main engines in the total system. We will seamlessly integrate a number of great software packages in the world to a cluster of services for our client.

This service is based on a "pay-as-you-go" principle, making our services the most flexible solution in the European financial market. To safeguard and make any payment secure for our customers, either they are investors or IFA's, we have signed with PayNet to execute all payment transaction on our internet platform. As a result PayNet is responsible for the secure payment, and we will not store any information on customers card number or secure number. PayNet will accept MasterCard, EuroCard, Visa, Diners and Amex.
